Executive Summary

Trinity Real Estate Finance partnered with 7tech to strengthen cybersecurity oversight, keep protections current, and meet customer security protocols. Through ongoing due diligence, 24/7 protection, and personalized support, the firm gained greater confidence in its security posture. Brenda Kudrna says Trinity has not been hacked since the partnership began and can sleep easier knowing 7tech is protecting the business around the clock with integrity and attentive customer service and dependable guidance.

About the Client

Trinity Real Estate Finance is a Texas-based commercial mortgage banking firm founded in San Antonio in 1996. The company arranges financing for income-producing commercial real estate, including office, retail, industrial, multifamily, hotel, and self-storage properties. It serves clients across Texas and the United States from offices in San Antonio and Austin.

The Challenge

Trinity needed a cybersecurity partner that could keep protections current, help the firm meet customer security protocols, and provide dependable support around the clock. The company also wanted a provider that would take time to understand its individual business needs and deliver service with integrity.

- Trinity needed ongoing due diligence to help ensure its cybersecurity protections remained current as cyberthreats continued to evolve.
- The firm needed reliable support in meeting the security protocols required by its customers and maintaining confidence in those protections.
- Trinity needed cybersecurity support tailored to its individual business needs rather than a one-size-fits-all approach.

Since partnering with 7tech, we have NOT been hacked and can sleep easier at night knowing that we are protected 24/7 from the latest cyber threats. If you're looking to protect your business from cyberthreats, don't hesitate to sign up with 7tech.

The Solution

7tech provided managed cybersecurity support tailored to Trinity's business and customer requirements. The partnership included ongoing due diligence to help keep protections current, assistance with customer security protocols, around-the-clock protection, and responsive customer service. The 7tech team also took time to understand Trinity's individual needs and adjust its support accordingly, keeping the focus on the firm's cybersecurity priorities, customer requirements, and need for dependable protection at all hours.

The Results

Since partnering with 7tech, Trinity Real Estate Finance has gained greater confidence that its cybersecurity protections are current and receiving ongoing attention. The firm also values 7tech's help with meeting customer security protocols. Brenda Kudrna reports that Trinity has not been hacked since the partnership began and says the company can sleep easier knowing it is protected 24/7 from current cyberthreats. Trinity also credits 7tech's integrity, excellent customer service, and willingness to understand the firm's individual needs as meaningful parts of the partnership. This brought greater confidence.

Key Takeaways

Trinity's experience shows the value of combining cybersecurity protections with ongoing due diligence, 24/7 oversight, and responsive service. The partnership also helped the firm meet customer security protocols and gain greater peace of mind in its security program.

Services Provided

7tech supported Trinity Real Estate Finance with a personalized cybersecurity approach focused on keeping protections current, addressing customer security protocols, and providing dependable coverage around the clock. By combining ongoing due diligence with responsive service and an understanding of Trinity's needs, 7tech became a trusted security partner committed to protecting the business each day.

Final Thoughts

For Trinity Real Estate Finance, working with 7tech provided confidence that protections were current, customer security protocols were being addressed, and help was available around the clock. Personal service, integrity, and due diligence created a trusted relationship that helped the firm feel more secure and sleep easier at night.
